WELCOME

The Tahoe Donner Trail System features over 60 miles of trails across 5,000 acres of epic Sierra Nevada terrain. It is the ultimate playground for hikers, trail runners, mountain bikers and equestrians.

The Tahoe Donner Trail Crew works to perform revegetation efforts, reduce erosion and implement best management practices for a resilient and healthy ecosystem. Their ongoing stewardship of the trail system continues to provide recreation opportunities. Please observe signage and stay on designated trails to avoid disturbing sensitive areas undergoing revegetation or erosion control.

The Tahoe Donner Trail Crew has also begun implementing adaptive trail management practices to enhance safety and improve recreation opportunities for all trail user groups. Make sure to note signage and only access designated trails as part of the appropriate group.

There will be ongoing changes to the trail system to meet the intent of the 2023 Trail Master Plan.

Trails can be easily accessed from the Alder Creek Adventure Center, Trout Creek Recreation Center, Glacier Way, Town of Truckee Trout Creek Class 1 Bike Path Trailhead, nearby street connections and other marked trailheads.

YIELD ETIQUETTE

Expect to come across fellow recreationists each time you head out on the trails. Although common sense goes a long way when using busy routes, all trail users should observe the following yield etiquette.

Adaptive trail management practices limit certain user groups to designated trails. Only access designated trails as part of the appropriate group and follow all other yielding etiquette.

UPHILL TRAFFIC HAS RIGHT OF WAY

HORSEBACK RIDERS HAVE RIGHT OF WAY

Equestrian traffic has the right of way, but riders should be prepared for inexperienced trail users who are unfamiliar with how to act around horses. Horseback riders should avoid high-traffic and multi-use trails whenever possible.

HIKERS + TRAIL RUNNERS MUST YIELD FOR HORSEBACK RIDERS

Foot traffic should step to the downhill side of the trail to let horses pass. Always announce your presence when approaching those on horseback to avoid spooking the animals.

BIKERS MUST YIELD FOR HIKERS + HORSEBACK RIDERS

Bikers should stop, get off bikes and step to the downhill side of the trail to let horses or hikers pass. Always announce your presence when approaching people and horses on the trail.

Note: Class 1 electric bicycles (e-bikes) are now allowed on any trails designated for bicycle use. Class 2 and 3 e-bikes are prohibited on all trails.

Much of Tahoe Donner's owned acreage is open space, and the board, committees and management are committed to protecting and enhancing the area for long-term stewardship and sustainable recreation.

There are several neighbors that access their property via Tahoe Donner. These include private lots and residences, the U.S. Forest Service, Tahoe National Forest, the Euer family, the Donner Euer Valley Corporation, the Truckee Donner Land Trust and other large landowners.
